

MARMI E GRANITI D'ITALIA
Sicilmarmi dal 1948

Project name:

18 Gramercy Park

Originally built in 1927, this 17-story building (the tallest in the Gramercy Park area) was originally the Salvation Army's Residence for women and later became the School of Visual Arts' facility before being sold to the Zeckendorf Group in 2012, who decided to convert its space into condominium apartments. The project consisted of approximately 450 sqm of 2 cm Caldia marble, both in polish and honed finishing, for the completion of the entire area of her bathroom (floors, walls, shower and vanity tops) in all the 13 units of the building.

Client: Zeckendorf Development

Architect: Robert A.M. Stern Architects

Year of completion: 2013

Location: New York City (NY), USA

Project type: Residential

Material	Caldia polished & honed
Thickness	2 cm slabs
Format	CTS
Quantity	Approx. 450 sqm Plus 13 vanity tops & 13 shower seats

